

I strongly oppose any changes to Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law that would allow calls from companies with an "established business relationship" as proposed by the Consumers Bankers Association.

NO unsolicited phone calls are welcome in my home. I have severe PTSD due to my son being killed by a drunk driver. The telephone ringing is a painful and at times terrorizing reminder of the telephone call that notified me of his death. While I must have a phone for emergency and family communication, I should NOT have to be subjected to, in the privacy of my home, unwanted sales solicitations or courtesy calls that cause further emotional and psychological trauma.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Levon
